

The cross ownership plan is exceedingly contrary to the role of a free press. The role of journalism will be undermined as you will soon be seen as an arm of the government.
I believe there are grounds for a constitutional challenge to such a plan.
It makes much more sense, it is more civic minded and fair spirited to skip the legal journey and just abandon this plan which is a serious threat to democracy.
dianne mcquillen